ACTIVITY	HAZARDS	CONTROL MEASURES ALREADY IN PLACE (Legal Standards)?	A HAZARD RATING	B LIKELI HOOD	C (A x B) RISK	FURTHER ACTION REQUIRED	ACTIONED BY	COMPLETED BY
Accessing a London Tube Station:  Tower Hill	Becoming separated from the group in the station	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Group leader to remind the children of the need to stay together, that the group will not rush for the train. Leader will decide on short manageable sections that the group will cover i.e. stop at the bottom of the stairs; stop beyond the end of the escalator etc.</li> <li>Leader will decide on a meeting point should anyone get separated. Stations do have staff in the entrance area of the station where children will be told to go to if they get lost.</li> <li>Group leader will group train tickets out to adults.</li> <li>If there is one leader - the leader will send the group through the turnstiles, telling them to stop just beyond, until the leader gets through. If there is more than one adult, one adult will go through first and wait for the children to come through.</li> </ul>	1	3	3
	Using the escalator	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>London Underground policy is that if you are going to stand on the escalator, then you stand on the right hand-side. The left is used for 'over-taking'. The groups will use the right hand side at all times and hold the rail. The adult should stand behind the group.</li> <li>Staff will make sure that on getting off the escalator, the group moves on and gets out the way of other users.</li> <li>If the leader needs to check on anything, the leader will need to find a safe place to the side to stop the group.</li> </ul>	1	2	2

Getting the correct train	Going the wrong way on the tube.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>When accessing the tube from Tower Hill, the Circle or District lines are the only ones available and both take you to Embankment.</li> <li>West bound trains are needed. Check the boards to make sure the group has the correct platform.</li> <li>If the group ends up going East on either line then it will need to exit the train at the next station and then get onto the westbound platform.</li> </ul>	1	2	2
Leaving the station	Becoming separated from the group in the station	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>On exiting the train, instruct the children to cross the platform to the wall and stop. Take time to instruct the children that if they get lost they are to meet at the ticket booth in the station. Waiting a minute or two will allow the platform to clear.</li> <li>Do not move until the train has left the platform. If for some reason, the train has stopped at the station then a decision will be made when it is safe for us to move as a large party.</li> <li>Exit in a controlled manner.</li> </ul>	1	3	3
